Government Hikes Coal Price Lids, May Approve Another Boost Monday

Miner Union Still May Go Out On Strike

75 Cents To $1.35 Ton Hikes OKd; Diggers Wage Jump Pondered

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(AP)—The government Friday boosted the ceiling price of coal. A hearing Monday could determine whether the ceiling goes even higher, or whether coal miners strike.

The Office of Price Stabilization announced ceiling price hikes ranging as high as 75 cents per ton on bituminous (soft coal) and $1.35 per ton on Pennsylvania anthracite (hard coal).

The increases may be passed on to the public.

The soft coal hikes are effective immediately on sales to retailers, and are retroactive to Oct. 1 on sales to others. Hard coal increases become effective Sunday.

The OPS explained the boost was granted to offset the $1.50 per day soft coal miners' wage increase approved by the Wage Stabilization Board, and the expectation a similar boost will be granted hard coal diggers.

OPS OFFICIALS said if the United Mine Workers win the full $1.90-per-day hike they are demanding, an additional ceiling price increase may be granted industry to offset this new labor cost.

It was estimated any new increase, based on the $1.90 figure, would be around 15 cents per ton for hard coal and 39 to 42 cents for soft coal.

A hearing here Monday of government, organized labor and industry officials may determine whether the full increase is granted. If it is not, a coal strike is considered inevitable.

John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, negotiated the $1.90 soft coal increase with industry, but the wage board trimmed this to $1.50, contending that more than this would endanger national economy.

Both Lewis and the soft coal industry appealed the WSB ruling to Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam. The important Monday hearing called by Putnam is to go over this appeal.

The increases bring miners' daily pay to around $17.50 per day. The cost of coal at the mines, under the new ceiling announced yesterday, will range from $5.45 to $16.25 per ton for hard coal, from $3 to $12 for soft coal.

Adlai Hoping Dems Can Be Positive Force

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 15.—(AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson says he hopes the Democratic Party can be a "positive and intelligent opposition," and that he will do all in his power to make it a useful instrument to the nation.

"To the extent that I can help, I will be glad to do so," he said as he relaxed on an Arizona cattle ranch.

The defeated Democratic candidate for President, vacationing at the De La Osa (she bear) Ranch 60 miles south of here, declined to be specific about his plans for the future, or the role he might play.

"I still have a job to finish in Springfield," he said. "That will take until almost the middle of January."

"Until that time I will have no announcement. I may not even have an announcement then."

Stevenson said he thought it was more important that the Democratic Party render a useful service to the country than to get back in power. He said that was the way to return to power.

He was asked what effect he thought newspapers had on the outcome of the election.

"The press was 92 per cent against me," he said. "I think that had something to do with the outcome." He added he thought news stories had some effect but not editorials on the editorial page.

ARRAIGNED ON A CHARGE of violating the Brooklyn building laws by converting a one-family house into 11 apartments housing 50 persons, Mrs. Bessie Honig, owner of several Brooklyn tenements, cries on the shoulder of her lawyer, Michael Kern, at Special Sessions court. She pleaded guilty and will be sentenced Nov. 24.

Amey Says He's Awaiting Local Reaction On Talk Of City Court

Mayor Ed Amey Friday said his delay in taking a stand on the idea of a municipal court for Circleville "results only from the fact that I haven't had a chance to give it thorough study and because I want to see first what public reaction is to the proposal."

He emphasized that although the two municipal plans have recently been linked during discussions on the city charter, "they are obviously two different things altogether."

Meanwhile, Ed Wallace, Pickaway County's state representative, again announced that he's waiting to hear how Circleville residents feel about the municipal court idea. He stressed that he can only guide his own efforts—either to introduce the necessary legislation or to disregard the suggestion—by what he hears from the local public.

"That's the only way I can determine how the people feel about it," he said, "and I wish they'd come forward and let me know."

WALLACE SAID numerous individuals have approached him in recent months with the suggestion that he introduce legislation at Columbus to clear the way for a municipal court here. Mayor Amey said he planned to confer with Wallace in the near future.

Near the end of the controversy over a proposed city charter here, the mayor contended a municipal court in Portsmouth had only added more expenses to that city's financial burden. While conceding the court will bring in more money for the city, the mayor said it will also represent "a serious increase in city expenses—an increase which many people may underestimate when they favor the plan."

Wallace said recently nobody as yet had approached him to oppose the municipal court here.

He said petitions will not be necessary pro and con in giving him the public's attitude, explaining it is left to the discretion of the state representative to judge the majority view in such a case.

Legislation to establish a municipal court here, he said, should be introduced during the first six weeks of the new session at Columbus—the period set aside to receive bills.

Following that interval, proposed legislation would be sent to committee and hearings would be held to give supporters and opponents an opportunity to voice their opinions.

LATER, LEGISLATION considered worthy is sent to the floor of the legislature where it is scheduled for three readings.

Any legislation to establish a municipal court here would be in the form of an amendment to the Uniform Municipal Court Act, seeking to add Circleville to the list of cities which already have such a court.

Wallace said legislation for a Circleville municipal court, if approved, could probably go into effect Jan. 1, 1954.

Ike Aides Silent About Their Work

Lodge, Dodge Shun Publicity In Gathering Data For General

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(AP)—President-elect Eisenhower's advance scouts, sifting secrets and shunning publicity, are quietly clearing the way for his conference next Tuesday with President Truman.

The information gatherers, Massachusetts' Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. and Detroit banker Joseph Dodge, went about their tasks inside a self-imposed, no-news-today cocoon.

Neither Lodge, who is Eisenhower's liaison with almost all government agencies but the Budget Bureau, nor Dodge, who takes over there, had any report on their progress.

Lodge made it clear Friday, his first on the job, that he was asking questions, not answering them. In shirt sleeves, making phone calls from his Senate office, Lodge said only that he is gathering "top secret" information from the Truman administration.

He described his schedule in this terse fashion: "I HAVE AN appointment with a man who wants to see me in confidence."

Practically nothing has been heard from the other half of the Lodge-Dodge team since he arrived in Washington last Wednesday. Dodge announced he was going to watch, but not criticize or advise, while budget officials put the finishing touches to the last federal budget of the Truman administration, which goes to Congress in January.

Dodge and other Eisenhower aides have emphasized that the general will not accept responsibility for anything in the Truman budget.

Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, Republican floor leader in the Senate, quoted Dodge Thursday as saying that most of the preliminary hearings, on which the budget estimates are based, have been completed. Bridges said the drafting was "almost in the post-mortem stage" before Dodge stepped in.

The White House, meanwhile, came up with a tip that the Eisenhower-Truman conference will deal primarily with vital foreign policy, defense and money matters. An announcement Friday said that, among those sitting in on the White House talks will be Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of Defense Lovett, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and Mutual Security Administrator W. Averell Harriman.

Lodge and Dodge will be at Eisenhower's side after the general first meets alone with Truman in the President's office. Presumably, the Korean war and Eisenhower's plan to visit Korea will top the agenda at the Eisenhower-Truman tete-a-tete.

Purpose of the meeting, suggested by Truman and quickly endorsed by Eisenhower, is to provide for a smooth transition from the old to the new administrations. The general is expected to steer clear of any definite commitments, however.

44 Gls Die In Plane Crash

Transport Smashes Into Korean Hill

SEOUL, Nov. 15.—(AP)—An Air Force transport plane plowed into a Korean mountain Friday killing 44 persons, including 37 soldiers and the plane's crew of seven. The soldiers were being returned to Korea after short rest leaves in Japan.

No one aboard the C119 Flying Boxcar escaped death, an Air Force spokesman said.

It was the first crash of a transport flying soldiers back from recreation leaves, the spokesman said, "and to my knowledge, it is the worst transport disaster in this theater since the war began."

A search party reported from the scene that the transport had burned, but it was not clear whether the plane caught fire before or after the crash.

It smashed into a "V" shaped junction of two mountain ridges about 2,200 feet high. The area, 20 miles east of Seoul, is so rough that helicopters can not land.

The search party is bringing the bodies out on foot. Hovering helicopters dropped stretchers and other supplies.

THE PLANE was last heard from at 2:40 p. m., Friday, when its pilot reported to the Seoul control tower he was coming in for a routine landing.

Air Force spokesmen said there were scattered clouds at 1,200 feet, well below the crest of the ridges. It was possible the pilot did not know the mountain was in his path.

An investigating team of Air Force specialists from Tokyo flew to Korea and now is conducting an "exhaustive probe" of the disaster, the Air Force said.

CARL DEITEMEYER's five children learned that President-elect Eisenhower does not have a dog, so when their dog presented them with a litter of five registered puppies at their home in Lincoln, Neb., they decided to give him the choice puppy. The Deitemeyers sent a wire to Eisenhower, offering him "Biff," held by 4-year-old Kent (Biff) Deitemeyer. No reply has been received.

3 Injured When 2 Cars Collide, Causing One To Smash Truck

Three persons were injured, two of them seriously, Friday afternoon in an accident involving a tractor-trailer truck and two passenger cars on Route 22 west of Circleville.

The crash occurred about 2:20 p. m. Friday at the junction of Route 22 and Kinderhook road, approximately six miles west of the city.

Injured were Steve Huzina, 45, of Cincinnati, driver of the truck; Mrs. Doris Bierly of New Holland, an occupant of one of the passenger cars, and Norma Jean Miller, 19, of Williamsport Route 1, driver of the other passenger machine.

Huzina was taken to Berger hospital. He was believed to be suffering from a fractured collar bone and chest injuries.

MRS. BIERLY was taken to University hospital in Columbus where her condition was reported fair Friday night. She suffered a leg fracture and possibly other injuries.

Miss Miller was reported treated by a physician but apparently was not seriously hurt.

Bierly, riding with his wife at the time of the accident, was reported unhurt.

The crash was investigated by Deputy Sheriffs Walter Richards and Jim Diltz.

They reported the truck, owned by Trans-American Freight Lines Inc. of Cincinnati, was moving west on Route 22 at the time of the accident.

Miss Miller, they said, was driving east and was attempting to make a turn near the highway's junction with Kinderhook road when the Bierly car, also a east-bound, collided with the rear of her machine.

The Bierly car then swerved and crashed into the truck, causing Huzina to lose control. The truck hurtled over the southern side of the highway and turned over three times.

Fighting for Pinpoint, dominant height on the ridge, had raged for 26 hours with rifle fire at hand-to-hand range.

An Eighth Army spokesman said the Republic of Korea infantrymen secured the peak at 6:25 a. m. and drove the last Red remnants to their make of tunnels and caves on the Yoke, at the northern tip of Sniper.

From that stronghold, the Reds again and again have sprung attacks and sowed reinforcements forcing the Roks off Pinpoint.

Close-quarter fighting raged also on Little Finger Ridge, east of Pinpoint. On the central front, Roks and Reds still were locked in battle after steady contact all day Friday.

On the extreme eastern anchor of the 155-mile bleak, rain-soaked battlefield, Allied forces threw back a North Korean Communist company—150 to 175 men—in an hour and 40-minute battle.

Heavy fog and low clouds over most of North Korea last night blacked out Allied air blows in enemy territory. Night flying 26 light bombers of the U. S. Fifth Air Force never left the ground.

State headquarters of Ohio Citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon in Cleveland received $63,009 and sent $60,014, and listed $3,000 contributions from Mrs. Vincent Astor of New York, Harry F. Guggenheim of New York and L. C. Hanna Jr. of Cleveland.

Blow Injures 974; Damage $12½ Million

No Americans Listed As Casualties, But Military Post Hit

TAIPEH, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Southern Formosa has counted 181 dead, 974 injured and $12½ million damage in the wake of a howling tropical typhoon which struck Thursday night and Friday morning. No Americans were on the list of known dead.

United States military installations and the big Nationalist naval base at Tsingy were hard hit. Sixty dead were added to previous death tolls by reports of fishermen drowned when their boats sank off Tainan on the west coast.

The casualty reports were compiled from official and unofficial reports. Government spokesmen said they expected the toll to mount as scattered reports filtered in from outlying areas and towns in the typhoon's path.

Prices of wood, brick and other construction materials doubled as the South Formosans began the gigantic task of rebuilding.

BEREAVED civilian families were given the equivalent of $20 in U. S. money for each member killed. Double that amount was given dependents of Nationalist navy men killed at the Tsingy naval base.

One of the hardest hit cities was the important port of Kaohsiung, where more than 500 buildings collapsed, including the weather station. Most of its instruments were blown away or smashed.

Communication and travel facilities were being repaired as fast as possible but numerous small Southern Formosa communities were without telephone or telegraph lines.

Government food officials said crops suffered but expressed the hope the 1952 production goal of 1,600,000 metric tons of rice would still be reached.

Newspapers in Taipei appealed for donations for relief.

Costello Said 'Boss' Around Tammany Hall

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Reputed underworld boss Frank Costello has emerged in New York State Crime Commission testimony as a man also once known as "the boss" around the Manhattan Democratic organization's Tammany Hall.

The statement was made Friday by I. Daniel Neustein, former Tammany leader who said he held the post from 1941 until 1945 when he was told: "The boss didn't want me any more." He said "the boss" reference presumably was to Costello.

Neustein also asserted it was "almost common knowledge in those days that nominations for the state supreme court had to be paid for."

After the hearings by the commission were adjourned for the weekend it was announced Friday night that U. S. Atty. Gen. James P. McGranery had asked for a transcript of testimony by Armand Chankalian, administrative assistant to the U. S. attorney here.

McGranery's action climaxed a day of rapid-fire developments highlighted among other things, by Chankalian's testimony that he once interceded with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in an attempt to get a restoration of the voting privileges of Thomas (Three-Finger Brown) Luchese, an ex-convict who blossomed into a wealthy New York garment manufacturer. He was decorated earlier by a federal narcotics agent as the successor to Costello in the underworld hierarchy. Costello now is serving an 18-month sentence in Atlanta's federal penitentiary for contempt of the U. S. Senate Crime Committee.

5 Injured In Loudonville Train Wreck

LOUDONVILLE, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Five persons were injured early Saturday when the Pennsylvania Railroad's Manhattan Limited derailed near here and was struck by a 97-car freight train.

Railroad officials said eight cars of the 12-car passenger train, jumped the tracks and were pounded moments later by the freight. Seven freight cars were derailed. The Mansfield General Hospital identified the injured as:

Marianno Cegalvo, 49, of Chicago, a porter, chest injuries.

Percy Dixon, 63, of Alliance, conductor on one of the trains, back injuries.

Thomas Scianos, 48, St. Louis, Mo., a passenger, neck and chest injuries.

Millicent Dock, 51, Two Harbors, Minn., a passenger, broken back and chest injuries.

Albert Runyon, 61, of Crestline, conductor on one of the trains, back injuries.

Four railway wrecker crews were at the scene.

Government Hikes Coal Price Lids, May Approve Another Boost Monday

Miner Union Still May Go Out On Strike

75 Cents To $1.35 Ton Hikes OK'd; Diggers Wage Jump Pondered

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(P)—The government Friday boosted the ceiling price of coal. A hearing Monday could determine whether the ceiling goes even higher, or whether coal miners strike.

The Office of Price Stabilization announced ceiling price hikes ranging as high as 75 cents per ton on bituminous (soft coal) and $1.35 per ton on Pennsylvania anthracite (hard coal).

Reds 'Invent' Automobile But Can't Fix 'Em

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(P)—Russians claim they invented automobiles, but apparently they're having trouble keeping them running.

Some example of automotive repair service, Russian-style:

1. The director of the Kishinev winery says he waited three years for his truck to be repaired. Then he found that it had been "cannibalized"—stripped of parts to repair other trucks.

2. A ZIS5 truck, of the Kishinev Truzhenik collective, was delivered to a repair plant July 7 last year and more than 12 months later was still waiting its turn although about $1,744 had been paid in advance for repairs.

The situation is so bad, says the State Department, even Russians are becoming impatient.

The customers of the government-run automotive repair plant at Kishinev, capital of the Moldavian Soviet Republic, finally complained. The situation was set forth in detail in a copy of the newspaper Soviet Moldavia received by the State Department.

A year ago the Literary Gazette of Moscow was complaining about difficulties owners of private cars in Soviet Russia were finding in having the simplest repairs made.

No Americans Listed As Casualties, But Military Post Hit

TAIPEH, Nov. 15.—(P)—Southern Formosa has counted 181 dead, 974 injured and $12½ million damage in the wake of a howling tropical typhoon which struck Thursday night and Friday morning. No Americans were on the list of known dead.

United States military installations and the big Nationalist naval base at Tsingying were hard hit.

Sixty dead were added to previous death tolls by reports of fishermen drowned when their boats sank off Tainan on the west coast.

The casualty reports were compiled from official and unofficial reports. Government spokesmen said they expected the toll to mount as scattered reports filtered in from outlying areas and towns in the typhoon's path.

Prices of wood, brick and other construction materials doubled as the South Formosans began the gigantic task of rebuilding.

BEREAVED civilian families were given the equivalent of $20 in U. S. money for each member killed. Double that amount was given dependents of Nationalist navy men killed at the Tsingying navy base.

One of the hardest hit cities was the important port of Kaohsiung, where more than 500 buildings collapsed, including the weather station. Most of its instruments were blown away or smashed.

Communication and travel facilities were being repaired as fast as possible but numerous small Southern Formosa communities were without telephone or telegraph lines.

Government food officials said crops suffered but expressed the hope the 1952 production goal of 1,600,000 metric tons of rice would still be reached.

Newspapers in Taipei appealed for donations for relief.

Costello Said 'Boss' Around Tammany Hall

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(P)—Reputed underworld boss Frank Costello has emerged in New York State Crime Commission testimony as a man also once known as "the boss" around the Manhattan Democratic organization's Tammany Hall.

The statement was made Friday by I. Daniel Neustein, former Tammany leader who said he held the post from 1941 until 1945 when he was told: "The boss didn't want me any more." He said "the boss" reference presumably was to Costello.

Neustein also asserted it was "almost common knowledge in those days that nominations for the state supreme court had to be paid for."

After the hearings by the commission were adjourned for the weekend it was announced Friday night that U. S. Atty. Gen. James P. McGranery had asked for a transcript of testimony by Armand Chankalian, administrative assistant to the U. S. attorney here.

McGranery's action climaxed a day of rapid-fire developments highlighted, among other things, by Chankalian's testimony that he once interceded with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in an attempt to get a restoration of the voting privileges of Thomas (Three-Finger Brown) Luchese, an ex-convict who blossomed into a wealthy New York garment manufacturer. He was described earlier by a federal narcotics agent as the successor to Costello in the underworld hierarchy.

Costello now is serving an 18-month sentence in Atlanta's federal penitentiary for contempt of the U. S. Senate Crime Committee.

Child Problems and Solutions

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, PhD

Every parent knows that a child raises many questions about death: What is death? What makes people die? What happens to them after they die?

A few years ago Maria Nagy studied the notions about death by 278 children of Budapest.

She found that from three to five, the child passes through three general stages in his idea about death. Up to five, he denies death as a final process; you are dead, then you become alive again.

Or like a journey, you leave and then come back again. Though he may at first express sorrow, he may soon forget about it.

Between five and nine, the child tends to personify death but not to accept it as final. Then he begins to think that death will come to all persons and will come to him. Other studies made in this country lead to similar conclusions.

SO WHEN we try to answer a child's questions about death, we need to keep in mind his age and present notion about death. Of course, our answer will also depend on our own ideas about death.

But if your own notions are vague and uncertain, even if you considered the death of a person not different from the death of a bird or puppy, you hardly would care to impose these ideas on a young child.

Rather you would prefer that he maintain his more hopeful outlook and thus escape unnecessary worry and anxiety.

You might, indeed, choose to seek the help of your preferred spiritual adviser in answering the questions this child might raise. Anyway, his questions should be answered simply and directly without dwelling on them unnecessarily long.

Regardless of how he is answered, the most important thing for this child when faced with death of a parent, grandparent, brother, sister or playmate, is to have a person or persons he loves and trusts to provide him with ample affection and personal security and an outlet for his interests and activities.

We of the Christian faith may easily have a hopeful attitude and interpretation for the child of any age. Dr. Lewis J. Sherrill of Union Theological Seminary and his wife, Helen, psychiatric social worker, put it this way: "In this area of hope, it is most important to all to help the child develop a trust in God and his creative purpose."

As he learns to trust God in life, he comes to know we can leave what happens beyond death to God in confidence that he has made it good for us.

"Anyone who has known the love of God in life has passed beyond mere hope. He has attained to the certainty that God's provision for our need in life or death is greater than we should know how to ask for, or even to imagine. We know this to be true because we have experienced it. This is enough to go by when we try to think of the future. This sense of certainty we can share with our children. It is a North Star for us, and may be so for them also."

I have quoted from their fine pamphlet, "Interpreting Death to Children," reprinted from the International Journal of Religious Education (to be had for five cents from the Pennsylvania State Council of Christian Education, Harrisburg, Pa.)

Persons of a different faith may prefer to choose literature on this subject recommended by their own spiritual advisers.

Q. Who at school might do most to attract to out-of-class activities more of the lonely, timid youths?

A. Other youths who excel in these directions, if properly appealed to by teachers to do so.

Hold it, folks! Don't toss away that rather dull looking booklet you may find in your mail box Saturday or Monday.

It probably contains your federal income tax forms for the returns on 1952 earnings.

The booklet is designed to help the taxpayer make out his returns, and is so labeled in big letters, but Van Vleet pointed out that many people won't realize the important papers are enclosed.

Distribution of the booklets and the tax forms is scheduled Saturday and Monday in the Circleville area.

Clark Said Seeking New Yank Divisions

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—(P)—The Chicago Sun-Times said Saturday that Gen. Mark Clark, commander in chief of the U. S. Far Eastern forces, has asked the Defense Department to send three or four more American divisions to Korea.

The story from the Sun-Times Washington Bureau by Frederick Kuh said "according to a reliable source, he (Clark) made it clear that his aim is to prepare a new major offensive against the Chinese and North Korean Communists." It added:

"As a prelude to his proposal, Clark told recent American visitors in Tokyo that he believes the stalemate in Korea is severely damaging U. S. prestige.

"Clark, it is understood, intends to put the same request to President-elect Eisenhower when the latter visits Korea.

"Eisenhower would then be faced with an extremely awkward decision. On the one hand, he is accustomed to fighting and winning wars the tough way. Clark's plans would appeal to that impulse.

"Furthermore, Eisenhower in the past has placed much trust in Clark's military judgment. On the other hand, Eisenhower's speeches in the recent election campaign stressed the need to reduce the number of American troops in Korea. That is why the President-elect emphasized his project to train more South Koreans who would replace Allied soldiers."

Dewey Declines Cabinet, But May Become Troubleshooter

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 15.—(P)—President-elect Eisenhower is pondering the question of whether to keep alive during the next four years an organization of political amateurs who helped him win the election.

The future of the National Citizens for Eisenhower Committee came up for decision amid indications the general plans to call on Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York to serve from time to time as a troubleshooter for the new Republican administration.

But Dewey, Eisenhower said, has "emphatically reaffirmed" that he is not available for a cabinet job in the new Republican administration. That is the situation at least for the present, the general added.

Walter Williams, Seattle businessman who served as chairman of the citizens committee during the campaign, arranged to confer with Eisenhower regarding whether the big organization of self-styled political amateurs should stay in business or close up shop.

AND THERE was a possibility the talk might get around to a cabinet post or some other major job for Williams. He has been mentioned for secretary of the interior or secretary of commerce.

Neither Eisenhower nor Dewey said anything about a cabinet offer. But the President-elect indicated Dewey could have such an assignment if he wanted it.

Eisenhower and Dewey conferred for four hours Friday at the general's vacation headquarters.

Eisenhower aides said they feel sure the President-elect will call on the governor for important emergency assignments.

They noted that Eisenhower left the way open for naming

But Dewey, Eisenhower said, has "emphatically reaffirmed" that he is not available for a cabinet job in the new Republican administration. That is the situation at least for the present, the general added.

Walter Williams, Seattle businessman who served as chairman of the citizens committee during the campaign, arranged to confer with Eisenhower regarding whether the big organization of self-styled political amateurs should stay in business or close up shop.

AND THERE was a possibility the talk might get around to a cabinet post or some other major job for Williams. He has been mentioned for secretary of the interior or secretary of commerce.

Neither Eisenhower nor Dewey said anything about a cabinet offer. But the President-elect indicated Dewey could have such an assignment if he wanted it.

Eisenhower and Dewey conferred for four hours Friday at the general's vacation headquarters.

Eisenhower aides said they feel sure the President-elect will call on the governor for important emergency assignments.

They noted that Eisenhower left the way open for naming

Struggle Of Churches Is Theme Of Assembly Meeting In Denver

The Christian churches' struggle against totalitarianism abroad and their efforts to build a better society at home will be major concerns of top church leaders meeting Dec. 7 in Denver, Colo.

At the most representative gathering in U. S. Christianity, hundreds of leading U. S. churchmen and women will come together for the second general assembly of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. Meetings of the Council's divisions and departments will be held the first part of the week.

The General Assembly, Dec. 9-12, marks the second milestone in the life of the National Council, the cooperative assembly established two years ago by official representatives of 29 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox communions to consolidate the work of 12 interdenominational agencies. The 29 constituent communions now have a combined U. S. membership totalling more than 33 million and 147,000 local churches.

The Council's 600 official representatives in the General Assembly have now been called together to plan the organization's next two years, to elect new top officials and to outline a cooperative church approach to scores of issues at home and abroad.

On world affairs, the official representatives alternate, consultants and visiting delegates will hear some top spokesmen, including the John Foster Dulles, who has been called the architect of the Japanese peace treaty, and Bishop Otto Dibelius of Berlin, head of the Evangelical church in Germany, who has combatted totalitarianism both under the Hitler regime and now in the East-West struggle in Europe.

Bishop Dibelius, who has fought on behalf of the churches with the Communist regime in Germany, this month will confer with the Patriarch of the Russian Orthodox church in Moscow and is coming to the U. S. for a one-week visit specifically to address the General Assembly.

Other speakers on church issues overseas are the Rev. James H. Robinson, minister of New York City's Church of the Master, who last year visited hundreds of communities in Asia as a representative of the churches; the Rev. Ira W. Moomaw, educational secretary of the National Council's Rural

Experts Work Seeking New Spring Wheat

Agronomists are working at a feverish pace to increase new varieties of Spring wheat which will reduce the ravages of race 15B of stem rust.

Plains states agronomists are obtaining two crops a year by using southern California and Arizona for a winter crop and shuttling seed back and forth.

Despite the high-priority tactics, it will take at least three years before new varieties resistant to 15B are available in sufficient quantities.

Meanwhile, wheat growers may profit by making wider use of Rushmore, say South Dakota agronomists J. E. Grafius and V. A. Dirks. Rushmore, developed by the two Dakotans, has proven tolerant to 15B when rust was severe.

Farmers with good seed of Rushmore should keep it for seed purposes, Dirks advises. He expects there will be a demand for seed even in North Dakota and Minnesota.

RUST READINGS made in 1951 and 1952 show that Rushmore had less rust than Mida, Rival and Lee. In terms of total stem area covered, Rushmore had 9 percent rust, Lee 15, Mida 17 and Rival 20.

Rushmore also outyielded Mida and Rival under heavy stem rust conditions in the eastern area of South Dakota in 1952. Rushmore produced 18.6 bushels an acre compared with 14.4 for Mida.

Test weight for Rushmore averaged 58 pounds a bushel, Mida only 55. The difference was caused by stem rust, says Dirks.

Missions Cooperating Committee, who returns the beginning of December from six months abroad, conferring with the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization in Rome and visiting missions agricultural programs in India, Pakistan, and the Near East; and the Rev. Dr. Henry Curits McDowell, pioneer Congregational - Christian educator and missionary to the Ovimbundu people, who has been called "The Booker T. Washington of West Africa," and who will discuss current upheavals on the African continent.

In the churches' concerns overseas, a large part of one pre-Assembly meeting will be taken up with a discussion of changes in foreign mission policy and techniques in areas of Communism and intense nationalism. A major aim of the discussion, to bring mission spokesmen closer to the needs and hopes of the people they serve, and farther from the outlook of completely western institutions and methods.

On the American scene, church leaders also will take up questions of national issues: what Christian citizenship and concern for a responsible society implies for the participation of church groups and individual Christians in political life; the concerns of the churches in foreign policy; hopes of peace and reconstruction in Korea; support of international cooperation; and Christian concerns for just immigration laws.

'Prayer' Theme Is Readied For Christ Church

"Prayer" will be the theme of study Sunday during services of the church of Christ, meeting in the Farm Bureau Home at 159 East Main street. This will be lesson number four in a series of studies on "Christian Worship."

Relative to this subject, Evangelist Charles Cochran points out: "Prayer is a wonderful privilege enjoyed by the child of God. It is a means of procuring for ourselves and for others many precious blessings that we would not have otherwise. Jesus said, 'Ask and ye shall find, knock and ye shall be opened unto you: For everyone that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened' (Matt. 7:7-8)."

"Many are discouraged from praying to God because of a failure to see that their prayers are answered. It is true that God does not answer all prayers. Neither does He answer all prayers in the way we ask of Him (Rom. 8:26), but according to His own will. This is also true with earthly parents who do not always grant the requests of their children because they know it would not be best for them. God sometimes says 'yes,' sometimes 'no,' and sometimes 'wait a while.' He knows what is best for us."

"The Bible gives us certain conditions of acceptable prayer which must be met before God will hear our petitions. We must: (1) Be in His family in order to address Him as 'our Father' (John 8:44, 9:31); (2) pray in faith (Jas. 1:6-7); (3) have a forgiving spirit (Matt. 6:15); (4) abide in Christ and have His words abiding in us (John 15:7); (5) ask in His name (John 14:13); (6) keep His commandments (1 John 3:22); (7) not ask amiss (Jas. 4:3); and (8) we must maintain the right attitude (Matt. 6:10; Luke 18:1-14)."

Bible Words To Live By

Psalms 119:11—"Thy word have I hid in my heart that I might not sin against Thee."

In 20 years as a university professor and a clergyman I have seen thousands of people who knew how to live creative and effective lives but who do not possess the power to translate their knowledge into human behavior.

There is only one way—that is for God to possess our lives in such a way that His Word is expressed in

Worship Rites Are Readied For 1st EUB Church

"Steadfast and True" is the prelude to be played by Organist Mrs. Verneal Thomas to open First Evangelical United Brethren church Unified Worship at 9:30 a. m.

Following the processional hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy," Church School Superintendent Mr. Edwin Richardson will give call to worship and lead the congregation in the affirmation of faith in praise, doctrine and prayer.

The congregation will sing a hymn, "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord," after which scriptural exhortation will be read and the pastoral prayer offered.

Fidelis Chorus, under direction of Jim Brown, will sing a pre-Thanksgiving anthem, "The Glorious Giver We Praise."

Introducing the larger evangelistic denominational program, with which the local church will cooperate, the Rev. Carl L. Wilson will speak upon a theme, "God's Way in the Sanctuary," from scriptural directives in Psalm 77:13; St. Luke 4:16; Hebrews 10:25.

Of this topic the Rev. Wilson says: "The Larger Evangelism emphasizes a broader outreach to the unchurched and unsaved by those who have known the joy of salvation through acceptance of Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord. Possibly the most effective approach in accomplishing this purpose is to be faithful in Divine Worship and to encourage others in this wholesome practice."

"The Psalmist establishes this philosophy by testifying in Psalm 77:13—'Thy way, O God, is in the sanctuary: who is so great a God as our God?' Jesus endorsed this Old Testament counsel as evidenced in St. Luke 4:16—'And when He came to Nazareth, where He had been brought up: and, as His custom was, He went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day.' St. Paul further gave impetus by exhorting the early Church in Hebrews 10:25—'Nor forsaking the assembling of ourselves together.'"

"The way of God signifies the manifestations of God, the revelation of His mind, His visible dealings with His people, the footsteps of His providence and the impressions of His grace shed abroad in the heart. In considering these facts one learns that God's way of instruction is in the sanctuary; That God's way of conviction is in the sanctuary; That God's way of salvation is in His sanctuary; That God's way of comfort and understanding is in His sanctuary and that God's way of sanctification is in His Sanctuary."

"There are numerous reasons why God hath His way in the Sanctuary. The sanctuary was especially designed to reveal God more plainly and fully to His people; Because in the Sanctuary God is greatly honored and adored; Because He hath declared His particular delight to be in the sanctuary and hath given many promises to this effect."

"Our Christian privilege should inspire us with an ardent attachment to God's house. It should teach us our chief business in the Sanctuary is to know the way of the Lord, to see His power and glory, to be more intimately acquainted with His mind and will. Having once experienced this wonderful relationship with God, how anxious we should be to bring our relatives and friends into the way of the Lord by taking them to the Lord's House so they may be blessed, so the truth may break in upon their minds, so God may meet them in the way of conviction and the house of the Lord may become the spiritual birth-place of their souls."

Church School class will go to their rooms immediately following the sermon to study a lesson, "Jesus Commissions the Twelve."

Junior Church for children under 12 years is conducted in the service center from 10:30 a. m. to 11:00 a. m. featuring an object lesson.

This great passage of Scripture has changed the lives of multitudes.

When the Word of God is in the heart, the will of man has power to overcome temptation and to live triumphantly.

Presbyterians Due To Hear Sermon On Christian Living

Continuing a series of sermons on the general subject: "Four Steps In Christian Living," the Rev. Donald Mitchell Sunday will preach at the Presbyterian church on the theme: "Love The Lord—And Thy Neighbor."

This is the third step in the Christian Living series, the first being conversion, or turning unto God; the second, confirmation, or becoming Christian disciples. The third step is Obedience.

When asked for the greatest commandment in the law, Christ quoted from the Old Testament (Hebrew) Scriptures in the book of Deuteronomy, Chapter 6: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, soul, mind and strength." But He added, "—and thy neighbor as thyself."

On these two commandments depend all the law and the prophets. The most perfect freedom in life results from joyful obedience of this greatest law: Love of God and love of mankind. For this, the teaching and example of Christ point the way. This teaching is the genius of the Church and takes precedence over all else.

It is the study of this truth which is being supervised and nourished in the Sunday school where at 9:30 each Sunday morning an hour of Bible study is conducted in classes for each age group: primary, junior, junior high school, senior high school, and four adults classes including the Mens Class.

Nursery service is provided for the care of small children as a convenience for parents who wish to be free of care during the worship service at 10:30 a. m.

In the evening, the W-F Youth Group meets at 7:30 in Westminster Chapel for devotions. The group then goes to the social rooms for the program and recreation.

Meanwhile, wheat growers may profit by making wider use of Rushmore, say South Dakota agronomists J. E. Grafius and V. A. Dirks. Rushmore, developed by the two Dakotas, has proven tolerant to 15B when rust was severe.

Farmers with good seed of Rushmore should keep it for seed purposes, Dirks advises. He expects there will be a demand for seed even in North Dakota and Minnesota.

RUST READINGS made in 1951 and 1952 show that Rushmore had less rust than Mida, Rival and Lee. In terms of total stem area covered, Rushmore had 9 percent rust, Lee 15, Mida 17 and Rival 20.

Rushmore also outyielded Mida and Rival under heavy stem rust conditions in the eastern area of South Dakota in 1952. Rushmore produced 18.6 bushels an acre compared with 14.4 for Mida.

Test weight for Rushmore averaged 58 pounds a bushel, Mida only 55. The difference was caused by stem rust, says Dirks.

Worship Rites Are Readied For 1st EUB Church

"Steadfast and True" is the prelude to be played by Organist Mrs. Verneal Thomas to open First Evangelical United Brethren church Unified Worship at 9:30 a. m.

Following the processional hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy," Church School Superintendent Mr. Edwin Richardson will give call to worship and lead the congregation in the affirmation of faith in praise, doctrine and prayer.

The congregation will sing a hymn, "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord," after which scriptural exhortation will be read and the pastoral prayer offered.

Fidelis Chorus, under direction of Jim Brown, will sing a pre-Thanksgiving anthem, "The Glorious Giver We Praise."

Introducing the larger evangelism denominational program, with which the local church will cooperate, the Rev. Carl L. Wilson will speak upon a theme, "God's Way in the Sanctuary," from scriptural directives in Psalm 77:13; St. Luke 4:16; Hebrews 10:25.

Of this topic the Rev. Wilson says: "The Larger Evangelism emphasizes a broader outreach to the unchurched and unsaved by those who have known the joy of salvation through acceptance of Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord. Possibly the most effective approach in accomplishing this purpose is to be faithful in Divine Worship and to encourage others in this wholesome practice."

"The Psalmist establishes this philosophy by testifying in Psalm 77:13—'Thy way, O God, is in the sanctuary: who is so great a God as our God?' Jesus endorsed this Old Testament counsel as evidenced in St. Luke 4:16—'And when He came to Nazareth, where He had been brought up; and as His custom was, He went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day.' St. Paul further gave impetus by exhorting the early Church in Hebrews 10:25—'Nor forsaking the assembling of ourselves together.'"

"The way of God signifies the manifestations of God, the revelation of His mind, His visible dealings with His people, the footsteps of His providence and the impressions of His grace shed abroad in the heart. In considering these facts one learns that God's way of instruction is in the sanctuary; That God's way of conviction is in the sanctuary; That God's way of salvation is in His sanctuary; That God's way of comfort and understanding is in His sanctuary and that God's way of sanctification is in His sanctuary."

"There are numerous reasons why God hath His way in the Sanctuary. The sanctuary was especially designed to reveal God more plainly and fully to His people; Because in the Sanctuary God is greatly honored and adored; Because He hath declared His particular delight to be in the sanctuary and hath given many promises to this effect."

"Our Christian privilege should inspire us with an ardent attachment to God's house. It should teach us our chief business in the Sanctuary is to know the way of the Lord, to see His power and glory, to be more intimately acquainted with His mind and will. Having once experienced this wonderful relationship with God, how anxious we should be to bring our relatives and friends into the way of the Lord by taking them to the Lord's House so they may be blessed, so the truth may break in upon their minds, so God may meet them in the way of conviction and the house of the Lord may become the spiritual birth-place of their souls."

Church School class will go to their rooms immediately following the sermon to study a lesson, "Jesus Commissions the Twelve."

Junior Church for children under 12 years is conducted in the service center from 10:30 a. m. to 11:00 a. m. featuring an object lesson.

This great passage of Scripture has changed the lives of multitudes.

When the Word of God is in the heart, the will of man has power to overcome temptation and to live triumphantly.

Presbyterians Due To Hear Sermon On Christian Living

Continuing a series of sermons on the general subject: "Four Steps In Christian Living," the Rev. Donald Mitchell Sunday will preach at the Presbyterian church on the theme: "Love The Lord—And Thy Neighbor."

This is the third step in the Christian Living series, the first being conversion, or turning unto God; the second, confirmation, or becoming Christian disciples. The third step is Obedience.

When asked for the greatest commandment in the law, Christ quoted from the Old Testament (Hebrew) Scriptures in the book of Deuteronomy, Chapter 6: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, soul, mind and strength." But He added, "—and thy neighbor as thyself."

On these two commandments depend all the law and the prophets. The most perfect freedom in life results from joyful obedience to this greatest law: Love of God and love of mankind. For this, the teaching and example of Christ point the way. This teaching is the genius of the Church and takes precedence over all else.

It is the study of this truth which is being supervised and nourished in the Sunday school where at 9:30 each Sunday morning an hour of Bible study is conducted in classes for each age group: primary, junior, junior high school, senior high school, and four adults classes including the Mens Class.

Nursery service is provided for the care of small children as a convenience for parents who wish to be free of care during the worship service at 10:30 a. m.

In the evening, the W-F Youth Group meets at 7:30 in Westminster Chapel for devotions. The group then goes to the social rooms for the program and recreation.

Jesus Commissions the Twelve

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Matthew 10:1—11:1.

"And when He had called unto Him His twelve disciples, He gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease."

The disciples were told by Jesus to take no money with them on their journey to preach and heal, nor "two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves; for the workman is worthy of his meat."

"And when ye come into an house, salute it, and if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it; but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you." Jesus commanded the 12.

"And it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding His twelve disciples, He departed thence to teach and to preach in their cities." MEMORY VERSE—Matthew 10:39.

A BRIGHT PROSPECT

FORMATION OF CITIZENS Crime Commissions in 13 large cities undoubtedly stems from the hope that there will be more sympathy for such crusades in high government quarters than in the past. It has been thoroughly established by investigating groups that organized crime of the scope now prevalent is impossible without the connivance of government.

The figure estimated to be the annual take of the criminals is $20 billion, which is approximately one-fifth of the national income. Much of this is reflected in the cost of living because criminals frequently levy on the cost of goods.

This is depressing enough to families hard pushed to balance their budgets, but if more shock is needed it can be found in the callous corruption of the youth of the nation. There has been revealed the almost unbelievable bribery of college and other athletes which has blighted their lives, often without commensurate punishment for the guilty.

And deeply disturbing reports are heard of dope rings making wretched gains by tempting the young to become addicts, even down at grade school levels.

It is a bright prospect which citizens who are forming crime commissions are acting upon. Perhaps 1953 will see racketeers and criminals on the run as they have not been for years.

PRICE SLUMP ABROAD

INFLATION COULD CONTINUE in the United States as a result of deliberate government policies, but most economists guess that the spiral will level off.

This is evident from reports of price weaknesses internationally. The British price index, made up of commodities produced around the world, has fallen 18 per cent from the 1951 high. This includes such items as sugar, grains, metals, spices, cocoa, rice and jute.

In this country prices of such imports as rubber, tin, wool, coffee, hides and shellac have tumbled 35 per cent from the 1951 peak.

These declines continue as governments of the United States, Britain, France, Canada and others cease stockpile buying and world demand lessens. In the United States domestic commodities have slumped 4 per cent in three months.

If a buyers' market is in the making, the consumer will find that his pay check goes a bit farther. A price slump, of course, always presents a danger of getting out of hand.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The effective core of political power in the United States is the Congressional committees, particularly the Senate committees. The chairman of such committees, if they choose, exercise vast legislative powers and influence administrative action. Many committees maintain large research staffs which watch-dog departments of government.

Although the Republicans do not have a working majority in the Senate, they have a numerical majority which gives them the right to organize the 83rd Senate. The word "organize" in American legislative parlance means that the Republicans will designate the president pro tempore of the Senate who presides when the Vice President is absent, the chaplain, the secretary, sergeants-at-arms, etc., also the chairmen of the committees.

In both houses of Congress, seniority rules, but a Senator will not be chairman of two standing committees simultaneously. Thus in the case of Senator Styles Bridges, he may become chairman of the most powerful Appropriations Committee or of the equally important Armed Services Committee, but not of both. Should Bridges choose Appropriations, Senator Leverett Saltonstall will be chairman of Armed Services; should Bridges choose Armed Services, Senator Homer Ferguson will be chairman of Appropriations.

Senator Eugene Milliken of Colorado will be chairman of the Finance Committee, and Senator Homer E. Capehart of Indiana will be chairman of Banking and Currency. These two committees control our money and a President or Secretary of the Treasury who cannot function with them or with the chairman of the Appropriations Committee is up a tree.

One of the most important committees is Expenditures in the Executive Departments which will be headed by Senator Joe McCarthy. This committee decides how much money each of the executive departments may spend and under what conditions. It may investigate each department of government to determine whether the funds are used honestly and effectively or if the officials are grafters. For instance, this committee could hold up funds for the State Department unless all Communists and other subversives were dismissed.

Senator McCarthy's stature is greater now than it was before the 1952 campaign. Only those who wilfully avoid the truth will discount the effectiveness of Joe McCarthy's campaigning. Politicians in both parties know that it was McCarthy who knocked off Senator Benton in Connecticut and that he pulled a large number of Democrats into the Eisenhower camp.

The chairmanship of the Foreign Relations Committee in the Senate has in recent years been regarded as preferred. Senator Arthur Vandenberg became a national figure because he held that post in the 80th Congress. It now goes to Senator Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, a highly respected figure. In accordance with seniority Senator Wiley should also head the Judiciary Committee. However, Senator William Langer is likely to be chairman of Judiciary. But Senator Langer is also the senior member of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

Treatment For Shock Victim

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WHEN we read in the paper that an accident victim died suddenly from shock, we must remember that there are two different types of shock. One type is known as primary shock, and the other as surgical shock.

Primary shock is a temporary condition from which a person usually recovers promptly after a short fainting spell. This condition is due, among other things, to a sudden, extreme emotional upset, as in profound fear, severe pain, intensely disagreeable sights, or tragic news. Rest and stimulants are helpful in the treatment.

More Severe Type

The second type, known as surgical shock, is usually much more severe, and if not treated promptly and vigorously, can result in death.

The person in surgical shock is prostrate, his face is white, and his body has a cold, moist appearance. His eyes are sunken, his blood pressure is low, the pulse feels shallow, and the arms and legs are cold and clammy.

The person may stay in a state of shock for hours or days. The longer in shock, the harder it is to recover.

There are many causes for this type of shock. It may follow severe operations, injuries, bad fractures or burns, broken bones, crushing wounds of the abdomen or chest, or severe hemorrhage.

Kidney Failure

Usually the shock victim has a considerable loss of blood due to the injury or operation. Frequently shock brings about a kidney failure which may last for weeks, even after recovery from the shock.

Emergency methods must be used as rapidly as possible in many cases. Any bleeding should be stopped by means of pressure or a tourniquet. The breathing passages should be kept clear, and the person moved as little as possible. He should also be kept warm, and sedatives should be given to relieve any pain.

Transfusions Life-Saving
Any loss of blood should be restored as soon as possible. Blood transfusions into the veins have helped save many lives. Transfusions at high pressure are now also being given into the arteries, and have saved lives that might otherwise have been lost.

Another important development has been the use of blood plasma and certain other solutions as blood substitutes when blood is not available. The doctor will decide in each case what treatment is necessary and, of course, the physician's services are required without delay in all cases of shock.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Mrs. E. M.: My lips get sore at the corner of my mouth. What is the cause? Could the use of nail polish have anything to do with it?

Answer: It is not likely that nail polish is the cause of your condition. Soreness of the corners of the mouth is usually due to a vitamin B deficiency, most often riboflavin or vitamin B-2. It would be advisable for you to consult your physician to determine the proper vitamins you should take.

CHAPTER TWENTY-SIX

ASTRID hesitated when Earnshaw refused her further information, then went back to see her father. McQuestion had recovered consciousness, though he was weak and feverish. It was no time to bother him, as she realized. On the other hand, his life, and the lives of all of them, might hinge on what was done now, and so she told him what was happening. McQuestion groaned.

"The man's a lunatic," he said. "But I'm afraid we're in his power." Grimly he explained what Whirter had told him of his real intentions. "He'll end up by getting us all killed," he prophesied. "But so long as the crew will follow him, I don't know what we can do."

"We'll do something," Astrid vowed. With clearer insight than some of the others, she understood that neither the hazard of hostile Indians nor anything else would swerve Whirter from his purpose. Getting the gold had been his real objective from the start, and he was enough of a fanatic to go through with it or die in the attempt. If the rest of them died with him, that was a small matter.

Briefly she considered. There were three courses open, and none of them sounded promising. But she must do something. She sought out Earnshaw again.

"I know now what is planned," she told him directly. "To make a raid on the gold camps. But under these conditions, that's the wildest sort of folly. Surely you can see that, Mr. Earnshaw?"

Earnshaw shook his head. "Whether I think so or not, I have no choice but to obey orders," he retorted. "It so happens that Mr. Whirter is my superior officer—a colonel in the Army of the Confederacy. I am a captain in the same service, and pledged to support him."

"And the crew are Confederate soldiers?"

"Some are. Others belong to the Confederate Navy."

Astrid bit her lip and turned away. She realized helplessly that Whirter had planned well, picking his men with care. NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER

Editor's Note: Every Saturday this veteran Washington correspondent devotes his column to answering readers' questions of general interest on national and international policies and personalities. Questions may be sent direct to Ray Tucker at 6306 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—"Do you believe that the average workingman has anything to fear from the Eisenhower administration?" inquires M. C. of Butler, Pa., a steel-manufacturing center, "because of the union leaders' almost unanimous endorsement of Governor Stevenson?"

Answer: I certainly do not. Unlike his two predecessors, in politics at least, General Eisenhower is not vindictive or a holder of grudges. He has always recognized the right of individuals and groups to disagree with him. His great asset during and after the war has been his ability to eliminate or moderate those differences.

He recognizes, too, that the workingmen, and especially their wives, do not follow blindly the advice of the professional bosses. Like the members of so many other elements of the electorate, they were influenced by the same, broad, national considerations which gave him his remarkable "no deal" victory. Stevenson did not carry a single industrial state, and only a few centers of manufacture.

LABOR MAY BENEFIT—As a matter of fact, it is probable that both organized and unorganized labor will benefit rather than lose under the incoming administration. Although Eisenhower favors repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act, I understand that he will ask the advice of Labor as well as management experts in framing a new statute and start in this vexing field.

He may possibly try to win both groups' agreement to new legislation before he submits it to Congress. That would be the ideal and businesslike method, in contrast to the one-sided, take-it-or-leave-it attitude which marked and marred most of Truman's proposals on this issue.

TRUMAN'S TACTICS—The actual fact is that Truman led Labor down a blind alley for seven long years. Although he urged Taft-Hartley repeal for vote-getting purposes in two campaigns, he never made a serious effort on behalf of its elimination or modification.

He blocked enactment of more than 20 ameliorating amendments proposed by Senator Taft and passed by the Senate, even though many pro-labor members considered them satisfactory. As has so often been said, Truman preferred to preserve a political issue than to solve a problem of human relations.

His use of presidential authority to grant favors to certain unions, such as his unconstitutional seizure of the steel plants, antagonized the general public, ranging both popular opinion and Congress against labor's more legitimate demands.

Finally, the top leaders of the "big three" unions have agreed not to make war on the GOP, and to establish friendly relations with the first Republican regime in 20 years.

DEATH—"Who would be the next President if anything happened to General Eisenhower before the January 20 inauguration?" asks T. F. of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Answer: Since Eisenhower is an extremely healthy and well-balanced individual, I answer this query only because of the speculative possibilities, and to clear up a few misunderstandings. The first is that Eisenhower is not yet the "President-elect," although I have applied that title to him, and so have newspapers generally. As of today, he is only the "President-designate."

He will not become "President-elect" until Dec. 15, when 39 states' electors assemble in their respective capitals, and cast their ballots for him and Senator Nixon as Vice-President, with Stevenson-Sparkman electors registering their nine states' choice.

If Eisenhower should die after Dec. 15, Nixon would automatically become President-elect, and take office on Jan. 20. But if Eisenhower should become incapacitated before Dec. 15, the electors are not bound to choose Nixon in his place.

They could vote for almost anybody else, with Governor Warren frequently mentioned as the most likely in such a remote and tragic event. Senator Taft and Governor Dewey are other prospects. Speculation on this question, judging by the many letters I have received, is prompted by Eisenhower's proposed tour of the Korean front, and the possible hazards involved.

JOBS FOR WOMEN—Miss E. A. O. of Yonkers, N. Y., as well as numerous other readers, wants to know which government department distributes pamphlets suggesting possible jobs for "Women of 50 and Over."

Answer: Write to the Women's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue, Washington, D. C. Besides the document listed above, there is another entitled "Hiring Older Women."

'Cats' Swamp Indians By 73-49 Score

Canton Youths Brawl On Eve Of Big Game

CANTON, Nov. 15 — One thousand brawling teen-agers streamed through downtown Canton Friday night, throwing stones at cars, lighting fires and jeering at policemen.

The row developed from what started out to be the annual bonfire rally for Saturday's Canton McKinley - Massillon high school football game, an annual contest of long-standing bitter rivalry.

Police, who arrested several youngsters, said most of the boys and girls were from Canton. They said the high school pupils and young hoodlums:

Stoned a car bearing the sign "Massillon Beat McKinley."

Broke a police cruiser's windshield.

Set street corner fires by lighting waste containers.

Threatened one policeman who was trying to capture a boy who escaped from a police cruiser.

Damaged car tops by jumping on them.

Detroit Ace Sets College Aerial Mark

DETROIT, Nov. 15 — Ted Marchibroda, Detroit's sharpshooting passer, didn't realize he had a chance to better college football's all-time passing record Friday and thus almost missed out.

Informed press box observers were squirming with frustration when Marchibroda, on the brink of breaking the record, called nine straight running plays in the fourth period.

Suddenly he started throwing again. And when the game ended, the Franklin, Pa., youth had thrown for 390 net yards, 18 more yards than ever gained by passing in a single game in the history of college football.

Unfortunately for five foot ten Marchibroda, his Detroit team lost 62-21 to Tulsa, the latter strengthening its chances for a bowl bid by its thumping victory.

Tennessee Named To Cotton Bowl

DALLAS, Nov. 15 — Tennessee has been selected to play in the Cotton Bowl. The once-defeated volunteers will meet the Southwest Conference champion, probably Texas, in the New Year's Day football classic.

It will be the second time for Tennessee in the Cotton Bowl in three years. In 1951 the Vols beat Texas, 28-14.

Dan Bucceroni Gets Decision Over Nardico

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 — Dangerous Dan Bucceroni, a lanky butcher boy from Philadelphia, has moved up the heavyweight ladder with a business-like job on game Danny Nardico of Tampa, Fla. After a 40-day layoff, Bucceroni will be ready to mingle with the likes of Rex Layne and Roland La Starza in the division now ruled by Rocky Marciano. He also would like to even an old score with Irish Bob Murphy, the only man to stop him in 42 pro fights.

Friday night, Bucceroni won a unanimous decision on the cards of all three officials. Referee Ruby Goldstein, who penalized Bucceroni the eighth for a low blow, voted 8-2. So did Judge Art Aidala. Judge Charley Shortell saw it 6-3-1.

Bucceroni took the bout on four days notice as a sub for Jake La Motta who "didn't feel good." He was a 2-1 favorite in the nationally televised bout witnessed by only 4,874 paying $15.93.

"I didn't think he had that much in him," said Nardico. "I trained for a short guy (La Motta) and a different style. Every time I looked up those long arms were coming at me. He's kinda cute inside too."

Canton Youths Brawl On Eve Of Big Game

CANTON, Nov. 15 — (P)—One thousand brawling teen-agers streamed through downtown Canton Friday night, throwing stones at cars, lighting fires and jeering at policemen.

The row developed from what started out to be the annual bonfire rally for Saturday's Canton McKinley - Massillon high school football game, an annual contest of long-standing rivalry.

Police, who arrested several youngsters, said most of the boys and girls were from Canton. They said the high school pupils and young hoodlums:

Stoned a car bearing the sign "Massillon Beat McKinley."

Broke a police cruiser's windshield.

Set street corner fires by lighting waste containers.

Threatened one policeman who was trying to capture a boy who escaped from a police cruiser.

Damaged car tops by jumping on them.

Detroit Ace Sets College Aerial Mark

DETROIT, Nov. 15 — (P)—Ted Marchbroda, Detroit's sharpshooting passer, didn't realize he had a chance to better college football's all-time passing record Friday and thus almost missed out.

Informed press box observers were squirming with frustration when Marchbroda, on the brink of breaking the record, called nine straight running plays in the fourth period.

Suddenly he started throwing again. And when the game ended, the Franklin Park, N.J., youth had thrown for 300 net yards, 18 more yards than ever gained by passing in a single game in the history of college football.

Unfortunately for five foot ten Marchbroda, his Detroit team lost 62-21 to Tulsa, the latter strengthening its chances for a bowl bid by its thumping victory.

Tennessee Named To Cotton Bowl

DALLAS, Nov. 15 — (P)—Tennessee has been selected to play in the Cotton Bowl. The once - defeated volunteers will meet the Southwest Conference champion, probably Texas, in the New Year's Day football classic.

It will be the second time for Tennessee in the Cotton Bowl in three years. In 1951 the Vols beat Texas, 28-14.

Dan Bucceroni Gets Decision Over Nardico

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 — (P)—Dangerous Dan Bucceroni, a lanky butcher boy from Philadelphia, has moved up the heavyweight ladder with a business-like job on game Danny Nardico of Tampa, Fla.

After a 40-day layoff, Bucceroni will be ready to mingle with the likes of Rex Layne and Roland La Starza in the division now ruled by Rocky Marciano. He also would like to even an old score with Irish Bob Murphy, the only man to stop him in 42 pro fights.

Friday night, Bucceroni won a unanimous decision on the cards of all three officials. Referee Ruby Goldstein, who penalized Bucceroni the eighth for a low blow, voted 8-2. So did Judge Art Aidala. Judge Charley Shortell saw it 6-3-1.

Bucceroni took the bout on four days notice as a sub for Jake La-Motta who "didn't feel good." He was a 2-1 favorite in the nationally televised bout witnessed by only 4,874 paying $15.93.

"I didn't think he had that much in him," said Nardico. "I trained for a short guy (La Motta) and a different style. Every time I looked up those long arms were coming at me. He's kinda cute inside too."

Sokolsky's These Days

Most Republicans would prefer that Senator Homer Ferguson be made chairman of the Judiciary Committee because he has been the Republican closest to the program designed and carried forward by Senator Pat McCarran.

Senator Robert A. Taft will head the Committee on Labor and Public Welfare. The Republican composition of that important committee, which is in charge of the "welfare state", will be revised to include a larger representation. Interesting developments are bound to take place concerning this committee which controls the Taft-Hartley Law.

The powerful Committee on Rules and Administration would have been chaired by Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., who has been defeated. This committee decides what legislation is to have a chance for consideration and when. The chairman will be Senator William E. Jenner of Indiana. Senator Lodge will probably pass to the executive branch.

The management of the Republican Party in the Senate will be in the hands of the Majority Policy Committee of which Senator Robert A. Taft is chairman. This is the most powerful of all committees and with it a Republican President must work.

It is not believable that any attempt will be made to unseat Senator Taft from that chairmanship as such an action would split the Republican Party and leave the new President with no majority of any kind.

President-elect Eisenhower cannot support any effort to interfere with the Senators in their seniority arrangements. The narrowness of the Republican majority makes the President dependent on the conservative Republican-Southern Democratic coalition which alone can provide the votes necessary for the passage of legislation and the confirmation of appointments.

It is a tough spot.

County Rabbit Hunters Reminded Of Dangers Of Tularemia

Old Suggestion Warns Against "Sleepy Ones"

Health Bulletin Tells Of Danger Signs While Cooking

Pickaway County hunters, heading into the open countryside Saturday in search of the speedy rabbit, had a word of caution on the dangers of tularemia—a disease that can cause prolonged illness and possibly prove fatal.

Dr. A. D. Blackburn, county health commissioner, urged precautions against the "rabbit fever" which kills about five percent of its victims.

"I certainly don't want to take any of the enjoyment out of hunting because I used to do a lot of it myself," Dr. Blackburn said. "However, it seems appropriate at the opening of the season to remind hunters that tularemia is no joke."

Best rule for the average hunter, he said, is "never shoot a rabbit that's sitting." The theory is that only a diseased rabbit, once aware of the hunter's approach, will remain still for any length of time.

"NATURALLY this rule isn't infallible," Dr. Blackburn explained, "but it's a good idea to follow for safety's sake."

"In most cases, a hunter who contracts tularemia gets it from coming in contact with the animal's flesh or blood while it's being dressed—or while handling the dead rabbit in the woods where it's rarely convenient for the hunter to wash his hands immediately afterward."

"In fewer cases, the disease is also contracted from rabbit meat that isn't thoroughly cooked."

Among bad habits for the rabbit hunter in the woods, unless he is able to wash his hands frequently, Dr. Blackburn said, are methods used to lighten the load of the dead rabbits, either by causing free bleeding or by removing the unwanted portions.

The health commissioner warned that while soap-and-water washing of the hands can give fair protection, the use of rubber gloves is a far safer idea when handling a wild rabbit.

"Extra protection will be needed, of course, when the hunter has cuts or scratches on his hands," Dr. Blackburn warned, "but there have been many cases in which the disease has also been contracted through unbroken skin."

A CURRENT bulletin issued by the city health department at Columbus devotes a major portion of its space to a warning on tularemia.

The circular warns that up until recent years, Ohio ranked third behind Illinois and Arkansas in the annual number of "rabbit fever" cases.

The health bulletin continues in part: "On cleaning a rabbit, if the reddish-brown liver or spleen is seen to be peppered with white spots, the carcass should be burned, one's hands should be repeatedly washed with soap and water, and finally if possible, with a disinfectant."

"Any cuts on the hand should be treated with iodine."

"Inasmuch as other conditions than tularemia may cause spotting of the liver or other internal organs, this symptom is not conclusive evidence of tularemia."

"It should be borne in mind that rabbits and other game may not exhibit visible symptoms of tularemia in early stages of the disease."

"TULAREMIA contracted by humans as a result of eating infected game that is insufficiently cooked appears to be especially severe and is associated with a high death rate."

Describing first signs of the disease, the circular continues:

"There is about three days from exposure to infection. Illness begins with a headache, chills, vomiting, aching pains all over the body and fever."

"The patient thinks he has the flu and goes to bed. The sore on his hand develops into an ulcer. The glands at the elbow or in the armpit enlarge, become tender and painful, and later develop into abscesses. There is sweating, loss of weight and debility."

"The illness lasts about three weeks and is followed by a slow

Going Through Europe Builds You Down; Also Tears You Up

By HAL BOYLE
LISBON—(AP)—Going through Europe builds you down and tears you up. It confuses an out-of-towner.

As a visitor, your duty is always to go and loyally inspect the famous local ruins, shake your head and ponder aloud how such a wonderful civilization could perish. The next thing is to admire the local art works.

For some reason beyond his own actual desires the tourist is supposed to be panting to creak his neck upward at the famous top-of-the-wall drawings of Michelangelo and his students.

The brave fact, of course, is that most visitors are more interested in the present day-to-day life of Europeans than in inspecting some mothy paintings of centuries ago they have had to study since they quit chasing fireflies.

Culture is a grand thing, and heaven knows we all admire it, but there is no particular reason except tradition for a visiting American to think the faded grandeur of a renaissance wall is superior to the clean splendor of a utilitarian Rockefeller Center skyscraper.

To me, no matter how many guide books I study, the Sistine Chapel is no more inspiring than the cathedral reach of the Empire State Building at dawn or dusk.

They have their inferiority complexes about us and we have ours about them. I say our towering group art, just because it reflects a group genius, isn't therefore less worthy than the lofty grope of individual genius that they admire.

Take the painting of "The Last Supper," a famous relic from the brush of Leonardo da Vinci that was fortunately spared by Allied bombings that crumbled three convent walls around it.

Time has been less kind to the efforts of the bold and wistful brush of long ago. An Italian friend said:

"Go and see it—The Last Supper. All that is left is crumbs."

I went. They were trying to restore the flaking strokes of the vanished master. Throughout Europe you find this—the attempt to restore a fading color opus of some heralded maestro of the brush.

But in many cases the reproductions we studied in childhood are better than the remnants left. Sometimes to see them in being is a sad shock, like leaving your mother young and fair and returning in after years to find her bent and old. Such was the feeling I had on actually viewing "The Last Supper" on a wall in Milan.

Mark Twain once bitterly remarked that anything was immortal that was remembered 100 years. Well, I feel culture is only the nucleus you cling to of all the things you are exposed to, the central bulk with meaning and feeling.

And after being exposed to all the antique art of Europe, I like to feel that a hundred years from now I could come home on a Long Island train at twilight and see the swordfish tower of the Chrysler Building stab a dying sky and still know a sense of warmness and belonging that I think is the effect of true art.

The thing about most American art is that we have, in a larger measure than any people before us, built our art so deeply into our daily lives that we, as well as the rest of the world, sometimes miss its spaciousness.

Can't you just visualize a visitor from Mars, studying his guide book and saying to a friend:

"Well, we only have a few hours left on earth. What do you want to see—Times Square, the Pyramids or a painting by that fellow Raphael in Rome?"

And don't you know the answer any honest tourist would give?

New Chieftains Of Legislature To Be Chosen

Battles In Offing As Both Parties Pick Men For Top Posts

COLUMBUS, Nov. 15—(AP)—State legislators who fought and won primary and general election battles now are involved in scraps to pick leaders of the next Ohio General Assembly.

Democrats and Republicans of both the Senate and House of Representatives will caucus before long to agree on the men for the top jobs. They are speaker of the House, majority and minority floor leaders and clerks of both houses.

The prevailing selections in the closed door meeting usually are binding on the party members who will open the 100th General Assembly Jan. 5.

Because Republicans again outnumber Democrats they will select the ranking officers, except the president of the Senate. That officer is the lieutenant governor who is elected by the voters.

McGettrick reportedly has the backing of Carney and Cuyahoga County Democratic Chairman Ray Miller. Twelve of the county's 17 representatives are Democrats and are expected to aid McGettrick.

THE SPEAKER, or presiding officer of the House, will be selected at a GOP caucus Dec. 8. Rep. George H. Kirkpatrick (R-Knox), elected to his ninth term, will serve as chairman.

Top contenders for the gavel-wielding job are the present speaker, Rep. Gordon Renner (R-Hamilton), and Rep. William Saxbe (R-Champaign), the present majority floor leader, or speaker pro tem.

Others mentioned for consideration were Reps. Kenneth A. Robinson (R-Marion) and Roger Cloud (R-Logan). All except Renner are from prominently agricultural counties. They look to the rural faction in the House for backing.

If Renner retains the speaker's job, the majority floor leader presumably would be from a rural county. Should a rural representative become speaker, the majority leader probably would be from a metropolitan county.

House Democrats have yet to set a date for selection of a minority floor leader to succeed Rep. James M. Carney (D-Cuyahoga) who made an unsuccessful bid for nomination for U. S. senator.

Contenders mentioned for that post include Reps. A. G. Lancione (D-Belmont), James J. McGettrick (D-Cuyahoga) and Jesse Yoder (D-Montgomery). Lancione has held both majority and minority House posts.

McGettrick reportedly has the backing of Carney and Cuyahoga County Democratic Chairman Ray Miller. Twelve of the county's 17

representatives are Democrats and are expected to aid McGettrick.

IN EVENT of a split in the party delegation, Rep. Joseph H. Avelone hopes to get consideration.

The Senate Democratic caucus date also is indefinite. Reports indicate when Republicans get together, possibly this month, they will agree on Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens) as majority floor leader, or president pro tem. He is chairman of the present Senate Finance Committee. Another possibility is Sen. William H. Deddens (R-Hamilton).

The current Senate Republican leader, Sen. Roscoe R. Walcutt of Columbus, did not seek reelection in order to run for the GOP gubernatorial nomination.

Senate Democrats may run into a scrap over Sen. Joseph W. Bartunek's attempt to retain the minority leadership. The Cleveland-er has opposition from Sen. Anthony J. Celebrezze, also from Cuyahoga County.

When Senate Democrats caucus, they expect to meet in Cleveland at the call of Sen. Frank J. Svoboda (D-Cuyahoga), ranking party member.

Senate Clerk Thomas E. Bateman of Columbus and House Clerk Carl Guess of Carrollton expect to retain their jobs.

The new Senate will have 23 Republicans and 10 Democrats, compared with 26 Republicans and 7 Democrats in the present Senate. The new House apparently will have 102 Republicans and 34 Democrats. Counts for one representative in Cuyahoga County and one in Montgomery County still hang in the balance. The present House originally had 98 Republicans, 36 Democrats and one independent, nominally a Democrat.
